

HENRY CARSE IS DEAD FOLLOWING A SHORT ILLNESS

Pioneer Business Man and Former Mayor Passes at 12:15 This Morning at His Home.

Contracted Severe Cold While Attending Bottlers' Convention at Dallas, Texas.

Henry Carse, president of Carse & Ohlweiler company, and former mayor of Rock Island, died at 12:15 this morning at his home, 1116 Fourth avenue, following a short illness, at the age of 74 years.

While attending the national convention of the Bottlers' association at Dallas, Texas, Mr. Carse contracted a cold. Returning from the south the train was stopped for three days by floods in Oklahoma. During that period the passengers secured poor food because of the absence of a dining car on the train. Mr. Carse was taken ill last Sunday evening shortly after his arrival here and was confined to his bed until Wednesday. Thursday he was able to be up and about the house and on Saturday he went outside for a short walk.

Yesterday he was feeling much better and after a hearty dinner requested that his son, John, take him for an automobile ride. After a trip through the city he returned home and ate a hearty supper.

Last night, about 11:30, he was taken suddenly ill again, and the family physicians were hurriedly summoned. In spite of all that medical science could do for him, he expired 45 minutes later. Heart trouble, aggravated by a severe cold, is given as the cause of his death.

Members of the family and his close friends had hoped that he would recover from his illness, as he had shown great improvement, and the news of his sudden death comes as a severe shock to the entire community.

Born in Ireland.

Mr. Carse was born in County Down, Ireland, Sept. 25, 1841. At the age of seven he was brought to this country by his parents, who settled in Pittsburgh in 1855. It was there he learned the bottling business at the plant of J. C. Buffum. He came to Rock Island in 1868 and immediately embarked in the bottling business with John Elder as his partner, the first plant being located on First avenue between Sixth and Seventh streets. Mr. Elder left the firm and the late George Lamont became his partner. This partnership was dissolved in 1873, when the late John Ohlweiler became a member of the firm.

The name was then changed to Carse & Ohlweiler company, under which it has operated since. In 1915 the plant was moved to its present location at Eleventh street and Fifth avenue. The company manufactures soda and mineral waters, and the business grew from a small start to one of the best known bottling works in the middle west.

Elected Mayor in 1880.

Mr. Carse held his first public office in 1874, when he was elected alderman from the First ward, and he served in that capacity until 1878, under Mayors Bailey Hays and William P. Butler. In 1880 he was elected mayor of the city of Rock Island on the republican ticket for a one-year term. In this year, the term of mayor was increased from one to two years, and he was reelected in 1881 for a two-year term, and he proved one of Rock Island's most capable executives.

It was during his administration that the waterworks was removed from the foot of Seventh street to its present location at the foot of Twenty-fourth street.

At that time the removal of the waterworks was considered one of the greatest steps in public improvement ever undertaken in Rock Island and it was through Mayor Carse that the agitation was started. When the waterworks was at the foot of Seventh street the drinking water was polluted, from the fact that the plant was located below the city sewage system. Although the city did not have the funds to finance the project, the late P. L. Cable came to the rescue with a donation of $25,000, the new plant being named the "Cable memorial" after its erection. Mr. Carse pushed through the Fifth avenue sewer system, and it was constructed by day labor, the city doing its own work.

It was while Mr. Carse was alderman that he introduced a resolution to number the streets and avenues. Instead of retaining the names in vogue at that time, the resolution was passed and the system changed. Mr. Carse was a member of Rock Island lodge No. 658, A. F. & A. M., Rock Island chapter No. 18, R. A. M., Rock Island commandery No. 18, Knights Templar, Mystic Shrine, Davenport, and the Peoria Consistory, 32nd degree. He was past master of Rock Island lodge and past commander of the Rock Island commandery.

Leaves Wife and Six Children.

Mr. Carse's passing is mourned with genuine sorrow throughout the entire tri-city. No man stood higher, or was more beloved than Mr. Carse. A faithful husband, kind father, successful business man and of strong character he had made a host of friends to mourn his passing and Rock Island loses one of its most valued citizens.

He was united in marriage in Rock Island in 1879 to Miss Mary B. Wright. Eight children were born to the union, six of whom survive. Besides his wife he leaves two sons, John W. and William R., both of this city, who were associated with him in the bottling business; four daughters, Mrs. Henry Tromann, Mrs. W. J. Pratt, Mrs. Edward Appelquist of Rock Island and Mrs. Robert C. Nourse; two sisters, Misses Kate and Elizabeth, at home, and nine grandchildren.

Mrs. Joseph Scherer, a daughter, passed away five years ago and one son, Henry, Jr., died in infancy.

Funeral services will be held at the home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the Masons in charge. Burial will be in Chippanock cemetery. Friends are asked to omit flowers.

LOCAL MAN INJURED AT BETTENDORF SHOP

John F. Miller, whose home is in this city, was seriously injured at 8 o'clock this morning while at work at the Bettendorf shops, in the foundry, when a steel die, weighing 1,500 pounds, broke from its fastenings, striking him in the chest. He was fearfully crushed. Miller was taken to the Mercy hospital in Davenport. According to late reports this afternoon he had recovered consciousness and hopes are held out for his recovery.

Crescent Bridge on Fire.

At 2:15 this afternoon the firemen were summoned to the foot of Seventh street to extinguish a blaze on the Illinois approach to the Crescent bridge. Several times caught fire from engine sparks of a passing locomotive. It is thought. Section hands working near by smothered the flames with buckets of water before the department arrived.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS BOOST CONFERENCE

Tickets for the older boys' conference, to be held at the Y. M. C. A., Friday night, are now in the hands of a score of boys in the high school and elsewhere in the city. These boys will make an attempt to see every high school boy and any other 15 years of age or over. It is urged that as many boys as possible be present. All who attended the state conference here last fall will want to come to this one. As it will be impossible for many of the working boys to be present at the afternoon session, they are urged to come in the evening to the banquet, which has been set at 8:40 in order that they may have time to attend. In order to make this conference a great success it is necessary that each boy gives his cooperation.

DAVENPORT ELEVEN BOWS TO CRESCENTS

A crowd of 2,000 ardent supporters cheered the members of the Moline Crescents football team to victory yesterday in a bitterly contested battle with the Davenport Independents at Stephens park. The Crescents held the visitors scoreless while they piled up a total of 13 points for themselves, by two touchdowns and one goal kick, the final whistle showing the count standing 13 to 0 in favor of Moline. The Anthony brothers covered themselves with glory during the contest, breaking through the enemy's line at will and carrying the ball for successive gains. The loss of the game is said to have come as a most unpleasant surprise to the manager of the Davenport aggregation, who had classed his team with the Rock Island Independents and the Moline Redmen.

TWELVE MEN WIN HONOR LETTERS

Athletic Association of Moline High School Announces Names of "M" Players.

According to the athletic association of the Moline high school, 12 members of the football team are entitled to "M's," each of them having duly qualified for the letter of honor by having participated in the requested number of games. The players who will receive letters are Fromme, Buelow, Seymour, Wilson, Weatherhead, Mousley, Axene, Welch, Smaratz, Ludwig, Elliff and Rohwer.

Three of this year's letter men have been similarly honored before, Ludwig having received his third one and Wilson and Buelow having won this signal honor each on a previous occasion. There are still two more scheduled games, Davenport and Rockford, which may necessitate the enlargement of the number of letter men, as it is expected that some of those who have not as yet qualified will probably be given a chance to do so in these games. It is thought by the athletic association that the number will not exceed 14 at the most.
